

Level 1 Award in Sexual Health Awareness

Course overview

Nearly half a million people in the UK are diagnosed with a sexually transmitted infection (STI) every single year. As shocking as this figure is, the number of actual cases is likely to be far higher, as STIs can be passed on unwittingly and people can have them without even realising.

This nationally recognised qualification explores important factors such as the roles of the reproductive organs, the symptoms of STIs and the different ways they can be transmitted. Whether you want to develop your awareness in this area for personal or professional reasons, this course will provide you with everything you need to know about sexual health.
